The route

What is it?

Introducing: Relay Your Way

This year we are launching something brand new - Britain's most inclusive relay, spanning 2,500km!

This isn't about being the fastest or the fittest. This is about inclusion. Uniting thousands of people to develop awareness and understanding of inclusivity and champion the rights of disabled young people, through the power of adventure, play and sport.

Watch here to find what it's all about!

Schools

Adding the buzz to the relay

During the relay, we'll bring the event through schools across the country. From Glasgow to Wigan, Cardiff to London, we're involving over 5,000 children at almost 40 schools, both mainstream and SEN.

We don't want our impact to stop there!

Although we sadly can't visit every school that's interested, we still want to inspire as many kids as possible around the importance of inclusive sport.

Read on to find out how else schools can get involved in the relay. We've already got 20 signed up and counting!

What you can expect

School Engagement Opportunities

Free high quality assembly and form-time resources to get pupils thinking about inclusivity and accessibility

A chance to be part of something nationwide

A fun opportunity to round off the school year and create memories for your pupils
