

Feedback Tools

Use feedback tools to find out if everyone enjoyed your activity.

For example:

Emojis

- Ask everyone to tap an emoji picture on the way out. Note which ones were tapped.
- Place emojis around the room. After an activity, ask everyone to stand next to a sign.

Thumbs

- Ask everyone to show thumbs part way through an activity to see how they feel.
- Ask everyone to vote for their choice of activity by showing thumbs beforehand.

Traffic light cones

Green = good

Yellow = okay

Red = bad

- Spread cones around the space. Ask everyone to stand next to a cone to show how they feel after doing an activity.
- Make a long line of cones. Before starting, ask everyone to line up against the cones to show how confident they feel.

Bean bag votes

- Have a target for each activity on offer. Take it in turns to throw their one bean bag into the activity they would most like to do.
- Have a box for each activity. Everyone has 3 bean bags and can drop as many as they wish into each box to show what they liked.
